

Ugo Crisponi is the mind and the heart behind Aviationgraphic . He is 38 years old originally experienced with mechanical engineering and technical drawing. Born and raised in Italy now lives and works between Italy and Japan. We had the opportunity to interview him. Please enjoy!

Q: Hello Mr. Crisponi and first of all thank you very much for accepting this mini-interview.

A: You're welcome Sotirios.

Q: Since many aviation fans already know that you are the mind behind Aviationgraphic (AVG) can you remind us when and how did that beautiful journey start?

A: AVG was a necessary step, as at that time (2005) I was creating and collecting quite a huge amount of artworks and profiles made for several purposes such as books, magazines and some Squadrons and law enforcement units. I decided at first to collect all these efforts in an online showroom. But I realized soon that lots of other illustrators were doing similar artworks mainly as a hobby and never thought to open an online store. So I contacted some of them and had an immediate positive answer. They joined me in this project and cooperate in several ways to make AVG a unique reality. So far more than 30 illustrators with different styles and backgrounds coming from all over the World joined me. Still have many requests in this way in the waiting room.

It was a pleasure to see the Sabotage Air Force on the BP and Equinor logos, from the Thank you very much Mr. Crisponi and hope to see more of your work soon!!!
