Aviation Career Day is a professional orientation event devoted solely to the aviation sector and the associated professions. After the successful two events which took place in June 2010 and April 2011, it is organized for the third time this year in order to cover the necessity of updating the fast growing sector of professional aviation training in Greece.

When? 17 March 2012

Where? Hotel Athenaeum Intercontinental - Athens GREECE

What? The scope of the event is to provide answers to the following questions:

- Which are the professions within the aviation industry?
- How can I be trained for these professions?
- Where can I be trained for these professions?

- Where can I work after completing my training?

For more information please visit: www.aviationcareerday.gr